

Special TWID on Evidence-based Policy Making in cooperation with Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) and Policy Alternatives Research Institute (PARI)

June 21 2018 (Thursday)
Kojima Conference Room, the Economics Research Annex
The University of Tokyo

Program

14:00-14:40

Chikako Yamauchi (The National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS))
“The Impact of Access to Health Facilities on Maternal Care Use, Travel Patterns and Health Status: Evidence from Longitudinal Data from Uganda” (Joint with Fredrick Manang)

14:40-15:20

Ryoko Sato (World Bank)
“The Causal Effect of Psychic Costs on Vaccination Take-up: Evidence from Rural Nigeria” (Joint with Yoshito Takasaki)

15:20-16:00

Mai Seki (JICA Research Institute)
“Individualized Self-learning Program to Improve Primary Education: Evidence from a Randomized Field Experiment in Bangladesh” (Joint with Yasuyuki Sawada, Minhaj Mahmud, An Le, and Hikaru Kawarazaki)

16:00-16:10 Break

16:10-17:10

Pascaline Dupas (Stanford University)
“The Impact of Free Secondary Education: Experimental Evidence from Ghana”
(Joint with Esther Duflo and Michael Kremer)