

Program for the Second Three-Country Conference
Seeking for Stable and Efficient Financial System

February 14 (Friday), 2003

Conference Room, 6th Floor of the Graduate School of Economics Building, Hongo
Campus of University of Tokyo

9:15 Registration

9:30 to 12:00 The Morning Session

 Baekin Cha and In June Kim, "Reform, sustainable growth, and vulnerability to a crisis in Korea."

 Masaharu Hanazaki and Akiyoshi Horiuchi, "Can the financial restraint hypothesis explain Japan's experience of financial crisis?"

12:00 Lunch

13:30 to 15:00 The Afternoon Session

 Chi-Wa Yuen, "Exchange rates and macroeconomic stability"

15:00 to 15:30 Coffee Break

15:00 to 17:30 Discussion: How to promote research collaboration in our three countries

18:00 Dinner in a French restaurant

I welcome any comments on the time schedule of the conference.

Main conference participants

Korean colleagues

Baekin Cha: Dr. & Director of Research, Korea Institute of Finance

In June Kim: Dean & Professor, College of Social Sciences, Seoul National University

Sang Kee Min: Professor, College of Business, Seoul National University

Chinese colleagues

Xinzhong Xu: Professor of Finance, Guanghua School of Management, Peking University

Chi-Wa Yuen: Visiting Professor of Economics, Guanghua School of Management, Peking University; Associate Professor of Economics, Hongkong University

Participants from Japan

Kazuyuki Mori: Japan Economic Research Institute

Masaharu Hanazaki: Associate Professor, Institute of Economic Research, Hitotsubashi University

Kimie Harada: Associate Professor, Daito Bunka University

Tomoko Hayashi: Senior Economist, Japan Bank for International Cooperation

Sumio Hirose: Economist, Japan Bank for International Cooperation

Akiyoshi Horiuchi: Professor, Faculty of Economics, University of Tokyo

Sei-ichi Masuyama: Nomura Research Institute

Kazuji Nakagane: Professor, Faculty of Economics, University of Tokyo

Yasuyuki Sawada: Associate Professor, Faculty of Economics, University of Tokyo

Megumi Sudo: Professor of Economics, Chuo University

Inman Yeo: Assistant Professor, Faculty of Economics, University of Tokyo